Conference registration guide

Dear Author,

It is essential that you read the following instructions before you submit your paper:

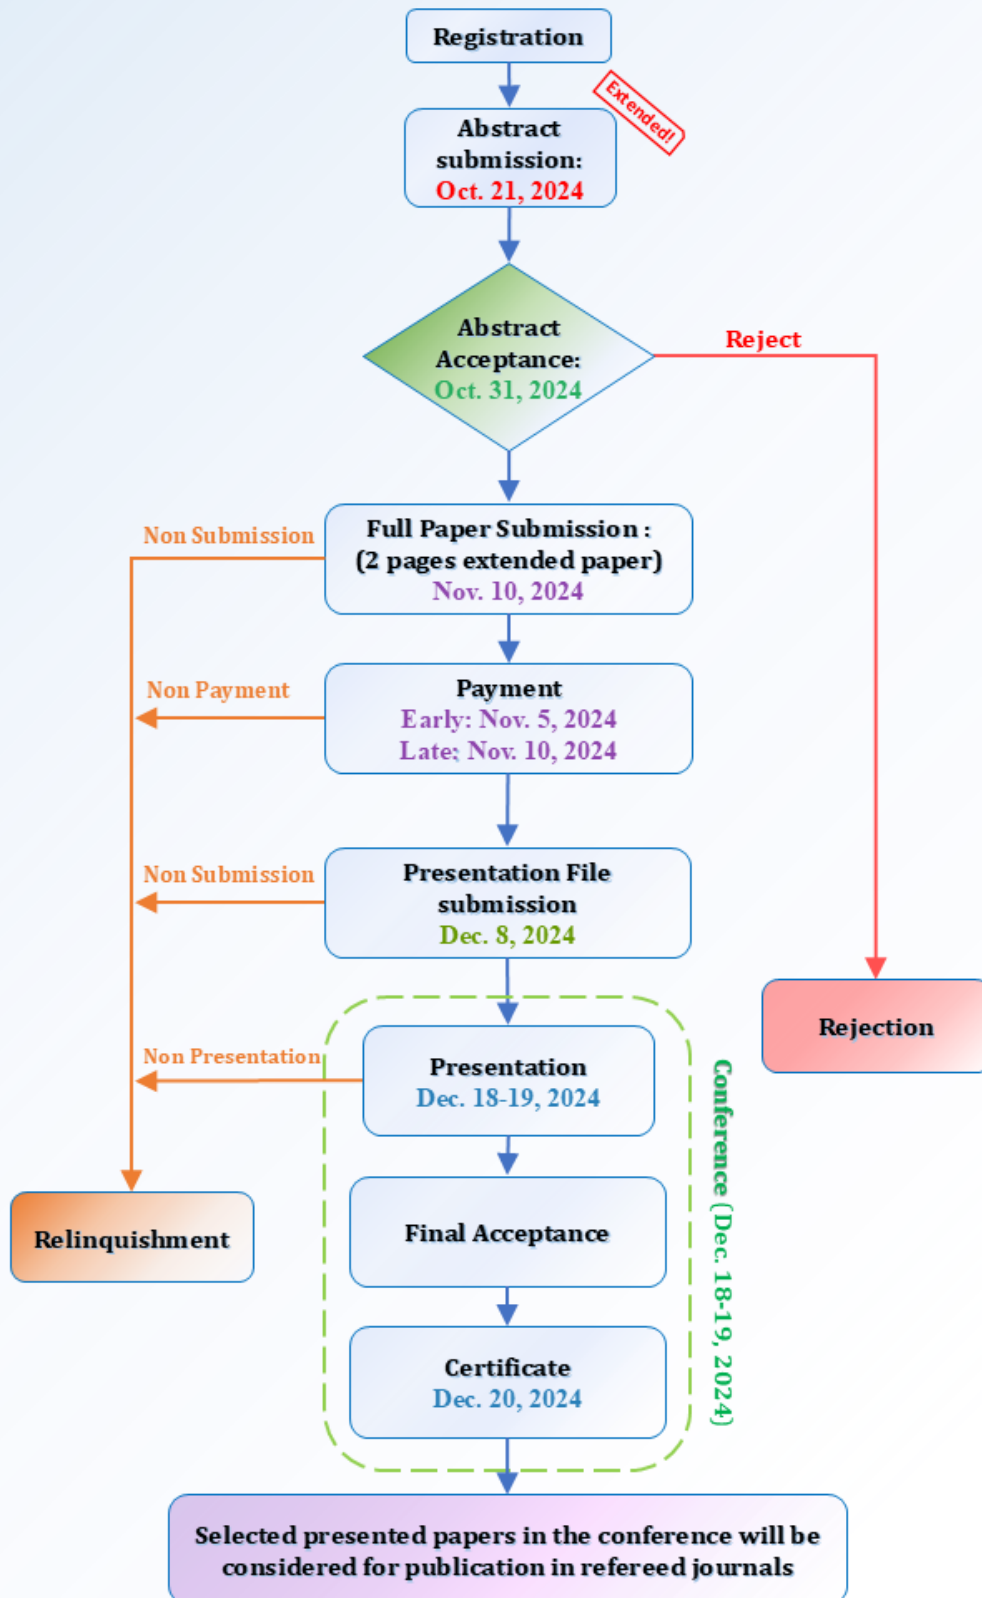

- 1) Presenting authors are requested to create an account and submit an abstract for the review process. The same account will be used when you register for the conference. Please keep the email and password for future use.
To access your account, please click "here".

- 2) You must upload your abstract (about 150 words) to your account before the abstract submission deadline. The abstract must first pass a review, and if it is accepted by the reviewers, the conference will send you the abstract acceptance/rejection notification. The abstract must be submitted in English according to the existing template.
To download the abstract template, please click "here".

- 3) You prepare and submit your full paper (details will be announced in the future).
- 4) Thereafter, you will pay your registration fee via the Melli Bank payment gateway according to the existing table on the website.
- 5) The conference's scientific committee will classify the abstracts for presentation as oral papers or posters.
- 6) After your presentation and confirming your paper at the conference, you will receive the conference certificate.
